SOURCE

1. In late October 1950 the area of the former Stralsund-Parow (N 55/P 44) airfield was still surrounded by a high fence and was strictly guarded by several sentries. Trucks were seen hauling such building material as cement and sand to the field, in the direction of the old runway, which possibly was to be reconditioned or enlarged. *
2. It was rumored in Stralsund that about 300 naval police and 100 air police were quartered at the field. The air force police which was allegedly being organized, was designated as an air transport unit. The air police still wore the naval police uniform as a camouflage. **

* Comment. No other information has been received that the runway was being reconditioned. According to previous reports, the runway was destroyed.

 Comment. The occupation by a police unit is possible.

Reported in February 1950 that the field was to be occupied by police units.

To date, the police units have apparently not been given flight training because the field was not serviceable.
